

PRESS RELEASEKolor+Service and T&K strengthen their Italian leadership with the acquisition of Tecnologie Grafiche

The deal brings the Group a complete range of colour- and quality-measurement solutions for the printing industry - and the expertise of one of the sector's most respected figures.

Nova Milanese, June 23rd 2026 - Kolor+Service and T&K, two of Italy's leading suppliers of inks, products and services for the graphic arts industry, today announce the acquisition of Tecnologie Grafiche, a long-established Verona-based company specialising in systems for measuring and controlling colour and quality across printing and packaging. The deal broadens the Group's offering and extends their presence along the entire production chain — from prepress and printing through to finishing.

Founded in 1983, Tecnologie Grafiche was the first company in Italy to introduce colour- and quality-evaluation systems, training courses on methods and standards in printing processes, and consultancy on calibration and certification. The Vipdens densitometers, distributed by the company, were the first to introduce objective colour measurements to the trade, replacing assessment by eye.

A Fogra member for thirty-five years and an Ugra Certified Expert (UCE), the company is today the exclusive Italian distributor for Datacolor/Techkon - including the SpectroDens instruments and software - ColorLogic by Hybrid Software, Barbieri electronics and PrintFlow. It also resells the GTI Graphic Technology and Peret brands.

Through the acquisition, Kolor+Service and T&K combine their nationwide sales and service network - active throughout the country - with Tecnologie Grafiche's technologies and know-how. The result is an integrated offer that supports clients at every stage: prepress and digital printing with ColorLogic and Barbieri, in-press colour control with Datacolor/Techkon, workflow automation with PrintFlow, visual assessment with GTI and folding-carton inspection with Peret.

The brands distributed exclusively by Tecnologie Grafiche are used in more than one hundred countries across Europe, the Americas and Asia, in sectors ranging from textiles and apparel to paints and coatings, automotive and plastics, and on to photography, design and videography.

"This acquisition is an important step in the growth strategy of Kolor+Service and T&K," stated Claudio Parietti, General Manager of Kolor+Service. "By welcoming Tecnologie Grafiche, we broaden our pressroom portfolio with a complete range of instruments for measuring and controlling colour and quality, and we move into the world of prepress and digital printing. That allows us to offer clients end-to-end support, from prepress through to finishing. Andrea De Rossi's expertise will be a decisive asset to the Group as we continue our mission to help customers achieve the right colour, every time and at every stage of the production chain."

"This union will allow the company I founded in 1983 to be revitalised and strengthened with fresh, highly motivated energy," said Andrea De Rossi, Sole Director of Tecnologie Grafiche. "With a solid, well-organised commercial structure behind me, I will be able to devote more time to the work I love most: training and consultancy. We have in fact just opened a new training room where we can welcome young operators and clients who want to learn the techniques of this extraordinarily technical and creative craft. I believe it is right to pass on what I have learned over more than fifty years in the trade to those who will be the technicians and entrepreneurs of tomorrow - and I am confident that sharing this goal will bring great rewards in the years ahead."

About:

Kolor+Service and T&K are two of Italy's leading players in the supply of inks, varnishes, consumables, technologies and specialist services for the printing and packaging industry. With over thirty years of experience in the sector, the Group is a point of reference for printers, converters and graphic arts companies, thanks to a nationwide presence, a highly qualified technical sales network, and an integrated offering spanning pressroom consumables, consultancy, training and specialist technical support. The Group also includes Service4Printers and Print Finishing Li.To.Ver, companies that further strengthen the organisation's expertise and service capabilities.
